Dear Folks,

I was glad to receive your letter yesterday. It was a pleasure to learn that everything is all right except for colds.

Everything here is all right except that the school really pours it on. As I mentioned, we were supposed to speak only Spanish out of our room. The third day we were here. Well, we try our best, & have the same roommate (& companion) & eat in the Mission home plus two more. My companion is from San Diego. The other two are from Pocatello and I. G.

We are in the San Fernando District of Zone II of the Language Training Mission. Zone II is those Spanish Missionaries going to Mission south of the Canal. The Spanish is pretty difficult. They say that you cover as much in the first week and a half that you do in two years of High school Spanish.

Our schedule is. Up around 6:00. District meeting 6:30. Breakfast Zone meeting 7:45. Class 8:00 - 10. Language Lab. 10-11. Class 11-12. Lunch 12-1. Class 1-4. Dinner 4:30-5. Gym 5-6. Study with members of District 6-7:30. Language Lab 7:30-8:30. Study 8:30-10:00. Bed by 10:30. It is really a lot of fun and an experience worth remembering even though it is hard.

On the money. Nobody has ~~for~~ given me any money yet so I only have enough for the first month. We have to pay $ for health insurances & etc. besides the $2.50 for board & room. So that is the extra fees. I will write and tell you how much more I need.

Ferry cut is finger the first week but I don't know how bad, I guess Ilene will tell you.

Well I have tests in the morning in Oral, Dictation, Pronunciation, Writing, and Memorization so I better close. All the grades except pronunciation are put on file at the Y and they are our grades. We have test once a week.

Love always
Lory
