Dear Folks

I have been awful busy the past few days so now that it is raining so hard here I will take a few moments to write you.

I have a new companion since last Thursday. Elder Sharp was made a senior which makes me happy to see him progress. Anyway my new companion is Elder John Dewey from Brewerton, Washington. He has been down now a little over two months and was on a "work mission" 9 months before his call to come to Argentina. In fact left from Salt Lake on his proselyting mission.

Things here are really wonderful and the Lord is blessing me so much.

Last night we talk with a group of people that you meet few of in your mission. I had talk to them once before but not to the extent we did last night.

we came in contact a few weeks ago tracing. We were tracing at night and a man came to the ~~front~~ door and said that they were busy but would like to talk to us. I thought he look German but I wasn't to sure and it was a large somewhat modern house.
We went back and they were all waiting for us. Him, his wife and 15 year old daughter. And also a friend of the family. They mentioned that they were Catholic but were ~~really~~ interested to know what the "Mormons" believe in. We found that he is the owner of a construction firm. That is, building most of the large apartment buildings here in Olavaria and that the friend was from D.C. (the Capital). Well, we talk then about two hours and the friend had most of the questions and answers. He seem like a person well read and intelligent.

Last night he mentioned that he had made a study of all the major religions of the world including mormonism. He said he believe in Jesus Christ and took the best out of to build up his belief in God. He said he had read the Book of Mormon a few years ago along with the Bible, Koran, etc. and I challenged him to read it again. I feel so lost for words when I talk to a person like that. I know all I can do is bear my testimony but I want so much to show him what's right but he has to say yes or no.

It is sure a testimony builder to me to see how much more I have than the rest of the world and I wish I could do so much more for people like that.

As time goes by, even though I don't want to I have to think of the future. I have thought and thought about school and although I would like to stay home and get to know the family, I think I owe to myself to go to the U. I have mentioned that registration is the 31st & 1st so I will have at least a week at home before school starts.

Tami is up so love always & say
