Dear Elder Mathews:

Now that you are about to be released from your present assignment as a missionary, we would like to express our sincere thanks for your devoted service. When you receive your honorable release from this mission and return home, regard it as just another transfer to another branch of the Church where you can continue to serve.

Because of your many accomplishments as a missionary, we are desirous of partaking of the benefits of your experience. Would you please consider the questions outlined below and give them your careful attention. We would surely appreciate your honest response in the spirit of upgrading the missionary program in Argentina.

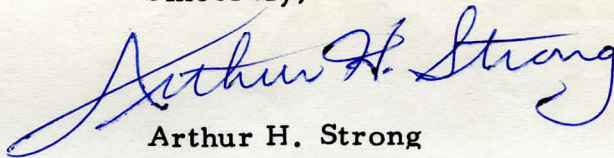

1. List each branch you labored in after becoming a Senior Companion.
2. What was your biggest incentive or factor which helped you to learn the Spanish Language?
3. What was your biggest disappointment or disillusionment? Were you at fault due to lack of maturity and experience? How did you adjust to the situation?
4. Have you received the kind of direction from the Mission President that you needed? Do you feel that you could have received better supervision? If so, what are your sincere recommendations?
5. What is your opinion of the zone counselor system? How do you feel we can make their efforts more effective?
6. How do you feel about the lesson plan in approaching non-members to interest them in the gospel? How could the plan be more effectively used and are there any changes you would recommend?
7. Are there any programs or policies in the mission that you feel should be done away with or which should be improved? Please give your sincere feelings on these.

8. What suggestions do you have that would better companion relations? Draw freely and frankly upon your own experiences.
9. What advice would you give to a missionary Branch President?
10. Please include your greatest spiritual experience.

Thank you, Elder. Please feel free to make any comments you may be inspired to make as those who come after you will benefit by your suggestions. We shall look forward to personally visiting with you before you leave the mission field.

Sincerely,

Arthur H. Strong
Mission President
